

Transform Your Organization with Mind Garden

We make it easy for leaders and human resources managers to assess, train, coach, and develop their employees and organizational environment.

We have provided proven psychological assessments to the business community for over 20 years. We offer trainer's guides and interpretive reports so you can assess and develop individuals or groups in your organization.

Our Transform™ online survey platform gives you 24/7 access to assessments, data, and reports. Your data and scoring file is dynamically updated with each completed survey. Individual and Group Reports become available as participants complete the survey.

Every participant has a unique identity so you can assess the same individuals or groups across multiple assessments on leadership, burnout, and work-life balance.

Certification is not required to use our assessments. We believe that you have – or can develop – the skills and confidence needed to administer psychological assessments.

As soon as you order, you can begin using Transform. Your employees can receive survey invitations within minutes. Individual and Group Reports can be generated quickly, with up-to-the-moment data.

Add your own content to our surveys with our fee-based customization service. Send us your demographic questions, other instruments, or your company logo, and we add it to your survey. Your Group Report or Individual Reports can also be customized. Visit our Customization page for more information.
